Two Seasons: Multispecies Medicine in Mongolia

(2018, 95 mins)

filmed by Dr Natasha Fijn

Mongolian herders regularly treat themselves and herd animals with Mongolian medicine. This multispecies-based ethnographic film focuses on medicinal practices within three different homelands (nutag), filmed in the spring and again in the autumn.

Anthropological Society of Western Australia

in collaboration with

Edith Cowan University students, funded under 'New Colombo Plan' study tour to Mongolia 2019 will be in attendance
